EXECUTIVE PROFILE

A creative and content strategist specializing in nation branding, audience-focused storytelling, and AI-driven media. With over 22 years of experience across film, media, and destination branding, I design and deliver narrative systems that translate cultural identity into high-impact content and scalable audience engagement. My work sits at the intersection of strategy and execution, shaping narratives into cinematic storytelling and AI-enhanced media production, supporting both cultural institutions and media organizations in driving relevance, reach, and growth.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE
