REOX
PERFORMANCE LIVES WITHIN

REOX

PERFORMANCE LIVES WITHIN

REOX is a women's activewear and lifestyle brand built around one simple belief:
true performance comes from within.
Rather than creating fixed collections, REOX empowers women to move, feel, and be their best with pieces designed to support every part of their journey. From the gym to everyday life, REOX creates versatile, refined activewear that adapts to her lifestyle.
With a clean, modern visual language and a focus on strength, individuality, and understated luxury, REOX brings together performance, style, and purpose.

The Challenge

The activewear market is crowded with brands built around seasonal collections, fixed designs, and recognizable trends.
REOX needed to communicate a different proposition: there is no single REOX look.
The challenge was to create a brand identity that could feel premium and distinctive while leaving enough visual space for the customer's individuality. The identity also needed to move beyond the traditional perception of activewear and position REOX as a lifestyle brand, not simply gymwear.

The Idea

Performance Lives Within became the foundation of REOX. The idea is simple: REOX doesn't tell women what to wear. It creates what they choose.
The brand's infinity-inspired identity reflects this sense of limitless choice, while the restrained neutral palette creates a timeless and elevated foundation that allows each customer's personal style to take center stage.

REOX isn't defined by one collection, one colour, or one way of wearing it. It also does not impose a signature colour or fixed aesthetic on its customers. Instead, its neutral colour direction provides a sophisticated range that can move effortlessly between the gym, work, dates, school, travel, and everyday life.
The infinity-inspired "eo" icon represents REOX's meaning — infinity — while reinforcing the idea of limitless possibilities and personal choice.

It is defined by the woman wearing it.
REOX — PERFORMANCE LIVES WITHIN.

A VISUAL PORFOLIO

As part of the creative team for the Saudi Franchise Expo (SFE), I contributed to developing the event's digital and on-site visual identity, creating a consistent and engaging experience across multiple touchpoints.
My work included designing social media content, exhibitor promotional visuals, event advertising creatives, food and lifestyle promotional posts, branded event graphics, and supporting visual materials. I focused on creating visually appealing compositions that combined strong photography, clear typography, brand consistency, and promotional messaging while maintaining the professional identity of the event.

TOPER MARKETING

I developed a professional social media campaign for Toper Marketing, a Canadian agency specializing in branding, digital marketing, and business growth. I created the overall creative direction and worked on the visual identity, layouts, typography, imagery, and supporting graphics across the campaign. Each post focused on a key area of the agency's services, including branding, social media, SEO, content, advertising, and digital strategy. The dark navy and blue visual system was designed to give the campaign a modern, technology-driven feel while positioning Toper as a creative, strategic, and results-focused agency.

LIPTON

I developed the Lipton campaign from the initial concept through to the final visual execution. I worked on the creative direction and planned different lifestyle scenes showing tea as part of everyday moments with family and friends. I developed and refined the visuals, focused on natural product placement, and made sure the Lipton packaging remained clear and visually connected to each scene. I also worked on the typography, arranging the headlines to fit naturally within each composition. Finally, I refined the lighting, colors, composition, and overall visual consistency across the campaign to create a warm, engaging, and cohesive social media series.

J&T EXPRESS

I developed an art driven visual campaign for J&T Express, translating the brand's services and communication goals into a strong visual narrative. I explored art direction, visual storytelling, image composition, character direction, environmental styling, color treatment, Arabic typography, and graphic composition to build a distinctive campaign language. Each visual was designed around a specific message, using cinematic scenes, controlled lighting, bold red tones, Riyadh-inspired environments, and carefully structured layouts. The objective was to create a visually engaging system that not only communicates J&T Express's services, but also gives the brand a stronger, more memorable presence across its social media communication.

TABBY

For this campaign, I focused on presenting Tabby as a simple and flexible way to shop and manage payments. I translated Tabby's key benefits into clear social media concepts, highlighting features such as Buy Now, Pay Later, splitting purchases into four payments without fees, and shopping now while paying later. I designed the visuals around Tabby's recognizable green identity, combining the Tabby app interface, shopping products, payment elements, and bold Arabic messaging to make each benefit immediately understandable. I also created a consistent visual system across the three posts, balancing the brand, product imagery, typography, and supporting graphics to communicate Tabby's convenient and modern shopping experience.
